

MANDATORIES DEFY LEAGUE; ALBANIA JOINS

Australia and Canada Join Others in Protest Against Big Powers' Practical Seizure of Desirable Territory—Chile Will Support Argentina's Amendments.

Geneva, Dec. 17.—The league of nations assembly today unanimously admitted Albania into the league. This brings the membership of the league up to 47 nations. The committee on admission of new members had recommended against admitting Albania.

Albania is a wild and desolate mountain land in the Balkans, bordering the Adriatic. It has no recognized government at present. It was formerly a part of the old Turkish empire before the first Balkan war. After Albania was created into an independent state, Prince William of Weid was selected as ruler, but the country by the big powers, but the reign collapsed after brief duration.

Geneva, Dec. 17.—The Chilean delegation today presented to the league of nations assembly a communication from the Chilean government expressing sympathy for the attitude of Argentina and promising to support the Argentine amendments when they are taken up at the next session of the assembly.

The manner in which the big powers in the closing hours of the assembly meeting have put the stranglehold upon the former German colonies defying the contentions of the United States and some of the smaller nations, has aroused bitter feeling.

The report of the mandate committee, admitting its inability to do anything, was thrown upon the assembly today without recommendation.

"They have handed the opponents of the league of nations in the United States and elsewhere a very strong weapon," said Charles A. Dougherty, of the Canadian delegation.

"After renouncing the wicked old system of the spoils belonging to the victor it has been asserted in this meeting. The council of the league has refused the repeated demands of the mandate committee of the assembly to 'submit the secret pact-negotiations to the council' and to 'submit the terms of the mandates.'"

Senator E. D. Millen, of Australia, and H. A. L. Fisher, of Newfoundland, took the stand that the assembly had no power to fix the terms of the mandates and could not do this. This right belonged to the council, he said, which was nominated by powers holding the mandates.

Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa, joined in criticizing the council, but replied caustically to a Dutch delegate who had proposed that all nations be admitted to the league of nations with equal commercial rights from the former German colonies. Lord Robert Cecil declared that the covenant guaranteed such privileges only to members of the league and not to outsiders. The general opinion was that Lord Robert was referring to the American notes concerning Mesopotamia and the Island of Yap.

MISS DANIELS MISSING.
Mystery in Disappearance of Boston
Young Woman.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Dec. 17.—Will the late of Maud M. Daniels, like that of Dorothy Arnold, never be known?
Police, private detectives, relatives, friends and the great organization of the Christian Science
Church, searching an international city for the missing young woman, had about given up hope today.
Miss Daniels, secretary to Edward A. Merritt, director of the Christian Science Church in good health, well educated, refined and in every respect a fine type of American womanhood, suddenly vanished into the night on November 28. Not a trace of her has been found. It would lead her whereabouts or reveal the reason for her strange disappearance has been found.

Colley Fights Tonight.
 Vincent Colley, welterweight champion of the Hudson river valley, will fight seven rounds with Lou Brocka before the Hesperus sporting club in New York city this evening. According to the New York papers Tex Rickard has promised Brocka a match with the champion if he stops Colley. Those who are the local big fight Wednesday night are of the opinion that Colley will be more apt to stop Brocka than vice versa. Some of the fight fans left today for New Orleans where they will attend the bout.

Ku Klux After Him.
In applying for a license to carry a revolver, James Kirtz told City Judge George A. Borchert, a court that he had received two letters from the Ku Klux Klan of American threatening to burn him. His attorney, George J. Wolf, told the judge that Kirtz had not a license to carry a gun and made threats to the judge and said that a few months ago, he prosecuted Kirtz as a burglar, who alleged that he had been pending in Philadelphia.

Examination of Plaintiff in C.
By Testimony in the Forenoon.

Friday, Dec. 17.—The examination in the afternoon of a witness in the case of the Ku Klux Klan and a former deputy chief of the local American flag.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 17, 1920.

Secretary Tumulty says he has been offered an appointment by the president to the chief justiceship of the Court of Customs Appeals. The position carries an annual salary of $10,000 and is for life. "I have this matter now under consideration," he said, "and I am not sure that I will accept it. It is not at all likely that consent would be given for such a flagrant use of a judicial vacancy to provide a place for a political lame duck."

In his message to Congress President Wilson asserted that, "The nation's finances have shown marked improvement during the past year." It will be remembered that the Republican Congress, which will come to a close on March 4, has cut two and a half billion dollars out of the demands of the Democratic administration for Federal appropriations. A billion of this reduction was made during the past year. If the Republicans had granted all the appropriations that the Wilson administration asked for, the increase of a billion dollars in expenditures would have left the finances of the nation that much worse off. While President Wilson did not give credit to the Republicans for this accomplishment, the voters did when they went to the polls on November 2 and cast their ballots for men whom they desired to conduct the affairs of the government for the next four years.

MR. SENTOS'S OVERSIGHT.

The president's message recommends that independence be granted the Filipinos on the ground that "they have succeeded in maintaining a stable government since the last action of the Congress in their behalf and have thus fulfilled the condition set by the Congress as precedent to a consideration of granting independence to the islands." The extent of the fulfillment of conditions is better known in Washington official circles than among Americans generally, but even the casual reader ought to be aware of the fact that at least some of the Filipinos have been making a heroic effort. There is the current report, for example, that Mr. Sentos of the Philippine senate has introduced a bill in that body to force "pants" on all the "half naked pagans" in the Philippines, not so much because to go pantless in a torrid climate is an evidence of either shamelessness or barbarism, as because pantless Filipinos have brought the independence movement into disrepute, their lack of the American garment having been "capitalized by the opponents of independence as demonstrating the incapacity of the Filipinos for self-government." The Sentos bill even goes so far as to provide that the government shall buy trousers in great quantities for free distribution, and that any Filipino who refuses to water the unwelcome burden daily from the pores of his skin shall be punished by five years in jail.

Surely there should be no further need of proof that Philippine statesmen are filled with the spirit of America. Mr. Sentos not only insists on raising his people to the level of "pants" even in the wildest and hottest parts of the Philippines, but he himself fully measures up to the prevailing American fashion of regulating the morals and personal habits of the people through legislation. Evidently Mr. Sentos has made a careful study of both the American Congress and the American people, with a view to fulfill the requirements of Philippine independence through the adoption of the percent Americanism; but he has overlooked one particular and inadvertently revealed a marked inconsistency. It is strange that so liberal a statesman, in seeking to Americanize the male Filipinos by putting "pants" on them did not also seek to Americanize Filipino women by parting their hair.

In the wildest and hottest of the Philippine islands, ladies may be seen in the comfort of nothing but a long shirt, or—in the very remotest parts—perhaps even of nothing but a breech-clout or loin cloth; but even these primitive women modestly reserve for their heads, however inhumane the burden when the temperature is above a hundred in the shade. In America, on the other hand, our women—or at least our women of the more "fashionable" and supposedly highest circles—demand that our houses shall be overheated at great expense in winter so that they can wear practically nothing above the waist (after 5 o'clock) except a tiny strap over the shoulders. Manifestly the Sentos bill is incomplete, for, though it Americanizes male Filipinos, it leaves their wives and daughters far behind the civilized procession, even in a climate ideally adapted to American fashions for women.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Dec. 17.—Miss Emeline Myer of Salem street has received a letter from Mrs. Augustine Gauthier of City of Bedford, France, stating that she and her sister, Marie, are pleasantly located and find the climate very much different from Port Ewen, their former home.

The members of the Reformed and Methodist Sunday schools are rehearsing for the Christmas entertainment.

Miss Bella M. Krom of Ulster Park and Mrs. Jeremiah Rejra and daughter Martha of the River Road spent the day with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Drake, Port Ewen.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Dec. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Woolsey of Clinton avenue, Kingston, spent Sunday with Mrs. E. D. Markle and daughter, Edsall Osterhout, who was injured last week while at school does not improve very rapidly. Dr. Fuller is attending him.

Mrs. North of Poughkeepsie, formerly Miss Dora Baker of this place, who has been visiting Miss Lulu Osterhout, returned to her home this week accompanied by Miss Osterhout who will spend some time with Kingston and Poughkeepsie friends.

Mrs. Rachel Anderson is improving. Mrs. John J. Wood spent one day last week with her mother, Mrs. Jane Osterhout, and one day with her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Osterhout. Chester Wood and James Wood have been overhauling their car this week preparatory to laying the car up for the winter while Mr. Wood is summing in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kelder and Mrs. Russell Miller were in Kingston Tuesday buying Christmas presents for the Sunday school Christmas tree.

Miss Hotelling is drilling the scholars of the day school for an entertainment to be given during the holiday season.

The small son of Max Cohen was badly scalded last week by boiling water and was taken to a hospital in New York city.

Virgil Wood and Arthur Kelder built an addition to Jesse Osterhout's barn last week.

Jacob Krom, Arthur Wood and Simeon Osterhout did fall butchering at Mrs. E. D. Markle's on Monday.

Fall butchering was done at Jesse Osterhout's and Eli Kider's on Wednesday.

M'GRATH MAKES BIG SHAKEUP

It is charged that he fired 22 Old Employees to Make Place for 22 Democratic War Veterans and Embarrass Incoming Republicans—Even Members of American Legion Condemns Trucking to O'Connell-Corning Faction in Cheap Political Trick.

Twenty staunch and true Democrats were ousted from positions in the department of public buildings, according to the Albany Journal, and their places have been filled by Democratic veterans of the world war. Twenty-two men received notice of dismissal, but Thomas O'Connell and James Perry of Troy refused to be discharged and reported for work as usual Thursday.

The Journal puts the responsibility on the shoulders of the O'Connell-Corning factionists. It is said that one of Superintendent John J. McGrath's deputies, whose duties it was to sign the order discharging the 22 men refused to do so, saying that he did not play that kind of politics. Mr. McGrath's name, it is said, was signed to the orders.

Many of the ex-service men in Albany are of the opinion that the O'Connell-Corning faction is using the veterans of the world war as footballs for nasty politics. In fact two of the former soldiers who were slated for jobs refused to report to work, declaring they were not going to be used as pawns in an attempt to strengthen the O'Connell-Corning faction in Albany county. The leaders of the faction are charged with trying to create the impression that the men who were discharged were good "patriots" and were perfectly satisfied to get out.

"It's strange what a sudden interest the O'Connell-Corning faction and Mr. McGrath have taken in the veterans," said one Democrat. "I guess if you combed the department a few days ago you would have found few if any veterans in the department of public buildings. That's strange if they have the interest of the soldiers at heart. The boys have been home now over a year, but it was not until the Democratic administration was to pass out that the O'Connell-Corning faction and Mr. McGrath took notice of the fact. Why weren't these men appointed before?"

One Democratic veteran did receive an appointment to a position in the department of public buildings shortly after he returned from the service. He was "Andy" Denn, who received several decorations for bravery.

The Albany Journal states: "The action of Superintendent McGrath, acting upon the suggestion of the O'Connell-Corning faction, in replacing the 22 old employees by Democratic veterans, is such a blundering job that it is laughable."

"The attempt on the part of the O'Connell-Corning faction to embarrass the Republican administration is so crude that it is hard to believe that it was conceived by men with the least particle of judgment. The members of the American Legion are up in arms over the affair, as they realize that the O'Connell-Corning faction is using the first big piece of legislation enacted for the benefit of the veterans of the world war for political purposes."

Superintendent McGrath, as is well known, is an Ulster county man, being a resident of Phoenixia.

Nothing To It.
"How did she show up at the cooking class exercises?"
"Her theme was half-baked."

TO COURT-MARTIAL PRIEST'S SLAYER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Dec. 17.—The auxiliary police cadet who shot the Rev. Father Magner, a parish priest at Dunmurry, County Cork, on Wednesday, will be tried for his life before a court martial. It was announced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland. Dublin Castle has reported that the black and tan cadet who killed the priest was insane, but Sir Hamar Greenwood, in reply to a question from Joseph Devlin, Irish Nationalist, said he was not aware that the slayer was a madman.

Added Reason For Seal Buying.

"If there are slack business conditions and unemployment, this is only an added reason for vigorously pushing the Christmas Seal Campaign during the rest of December." Harvey Dee Brown, State Director of the 1920 Christmas Seal Campaign, stated today in a letter issued to all Christmas Seal Campaign representatives. "Conditions of unemployment intensify the need for tuberculosis work. Temporary unemployment is an illustration of the more tragic situation arising when a bread-winner is stricken by tuberculosis."

LONELY CHRISTMAS

An Executive Mansion for the First in Many Years.

For the first time in the recollection of the oldest capital employes, the executive mansion at Albany will not see a Christmas celebration. Governor Smith and his family will leave the mansion on December 20, and will spend Christmas in the governor's Oliver street home in New York. There will be a tree for the Smith children, which will be enjoyed just as much by the governor as it will be by the Smith youngsters.

Governor-elect Nathan L. Miller will spend Christmas with his family in their Syracuse home, and he, too, will have a tree for his young daughters. At first it was believed the governor-elect would come to Albany in time to spend Christmas at the mansion, but this plan was abandoned.

Two years ago Governor Whitman enjoyed Christmas at the mansion with his family, and last year Governor Smith celebrated the day there.

Investigating housing conditions in New York. Mr. Grace, under questioning by Samuel Untermyer, attorney for the committee, admitted that his corporation had refused to sell steel in Philadelphia and New York except to contractors who agreed not to use it in construction in which union men were engaged. Mr. Grace defended the policy of the Bethlehem corporation to sell to "open shops" only on the ground that it was "self protection."

She will eventually strive to accomplish through education what her father failed to get years ago by force, the independence of the Philippines. Miss Aguilado is just twenty.

Get Fatted Thorough.

Actual records of states tell us that of one from Saratoga to Saratoga, which Ochsberg carried away. The bull objected to the act by gradually becoming dumb on the journey to Paris, where its voice was discovered gone. But its voice returned to such full force when the bull was sent home that its voice could be heard seven miles distant.

Lighting in Ancient Days.

Stone and clay were used to make lamps in Greece about 1000 B. C. These were low and open, with two circular depressions cut into the broad rim to afford a vent for the oil and a flaring neck. They were portable, but many had a high foot, so that the lamp could rest on the floor or be set upon a table.

Coffee— The Healthful Drink!

There is something in the very fragrance of good coffee that is healthful. It brings comfort to the sick room, gives zest to the daily meal, clears the tired brain, revives fatigued muscles. Coffee is more than a beverage—it serves both as food and drink.

True connoisseurs of good, wholesome coffee give REYNOLDS RELIANCE COFFEE their unqualified approval. It is a delicious blend of mellowed coffees, scientifically roasted and ground by a special process that removes the bitter chaff. RELIANCE is a wholesome, digestible, healthful coffee that cannot endanger the health.

Remember to ask for RELIANCE. It is always fresh at your grocer's—guaranteed to please or your money back. The Wm. T. Reynolds Co., Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Pertinent Facts—Doctor Valentine Nalpas, of the Faculty of Medicine, of Paris, says: "Coffee vitalizes the muscles, animates the circulation, facilitates digestion and makes intellectual work more easy."

LIVES AS RED TO GET CURE FOR RADICALS

Doctor Morley Says Lack of Family Life Is Cause of Bolshevism.

Why is a Bolshevik? What does a bomb thrower think about? Why do "Americanization" campaigns fail to get to the heart of the foreign population?

Attired in old and ill fitting foreign-made clothes, Dr. Raymond Morley, director of the Cleveland foundation, went into the slums, the factory districts, the coffee houses and homes of the foreign population of Cleveland to find out. Doctor Morley, formerly of the faculty of Western Reserve university and the University of Minnesota, told the Chicago City club at luncheon about it.

"What makes a radical?" he said. "We found that lack of adjustment and lack of proper family life were two powerful elements. The men were not properly placed in industries. There never has been any attempt to place them. There is an enormous preponderance of men over women in the foreign districts. The men are either single or have left their families in Europe until they can afford to bring them to America, hence the men lack proper family life and home ties.

"They are a prey to homesickness, and the petty annoyances and the disillusionments to which they are subjected are magnified and become serious. America, of which they had heard such golden reports, appears to be a squalid world of black houses, black streets, dirty, screaming children, factory smoke, noisy nights, crowded cars, filth, hard work and misery.

"No amount of glowing words can talk the immigrant out of an unpleasant human experience. Americanization must begin at the bottom and work up, not at the top and work down. The only Americanization that will succeed is that which recognizes the immigrant's contribution to America and flatters them by accepting that contribution."

SUPER-SILK WORMS SPIN THEIR SILKS IN COLORS

Through a process known only to himself Dr. Vartan K. Osgian, the "silk king" of the South and known as the Luther Burbank of the silk industry, has developed the super-silk worm, which spins a cocoon twice the size of the ordinary cocoon and spins silk in 18 different colors. The secret process which induces the silkworm to spin its silk in colors is looked upon as one of the marvels of the scientific world. The Osgian nursery at New Orleans is said to be the largest in the world. It contains 2,000,000 Osgian silk trees, 10,000,000 silk eggs and 200,000 of the silkworms.

The super-silkworm exists in four stages: first the egg, second the larva, third the chrysalis, and fourth the moth. The worm spins his cocoon in three days, spinning at the rate of from ten to fifteen inches of fiber per minute, winding the fiber round and round himself in one continuous thread, from the outside to the inside, so that the person finding the end of the fiber where the worm began unwinds the entire cocoon. Each cocoon of the super-silkworm contains 1,000 yards of silk, 1 1/2 inch in diameter, and is composed of 140 strands. The single filament of cocoon would straddle the width of the equator.

The colors of the silk spun by the worms will not fade, and are of a richness of tint so exquisite that no dye can equal them in beauty. The culture of the silkworm, introduced to the southern states by Doctor Osgian twelve years ago, promises to become a vital industry in cotton growing.

Get's Right to Be Waxed.

It is a violation of Pennsylvania's laws to interfere with your sister's sweetheart, decided Attorney Frank Pfeiffer. William Frazar of Schuylkill, Pa., was held in $500 bail for contempt for interfering with the wedding of his sister William to Theodore Hall. It was charged that Pfeiffer threatened Hall if he continued to call upon Lillian.

Evening Star.

Has played the show before with night in called on "evening star." It does not rise until after midnight it is a morning star. These terms are never applied to the real stars, which are called "fixed stars," but only to planets, which are not stars.

COUNTY CHILD AGENCY FUNCTIONS

The following appeal is being sent out to the voters of Ulster county—especially the women:

For the past eight years the Ulster County Branch of the State Charities Aid Association, in cooperation with the public officials, has maintained a Children's Agency to assist Ulster county children who are in need of public support or public protection. The duties of the agency, under the agreement with the board of supervisors and the superintendent of the poor, are as follows:

1. To investigate the circumstances of the families in said county having poor children who are public charges or for whom application has been made for commitment as public charges; and to assist in returning said children to their homes, provided their families are financially able to and morally fit to care for them.

2. To investigate the circumstances of families willing to provide homes for such children or to provide good situations at domestic service for homeless women with young children who might otherwise become public charges; and to assist in procuring good homes or good situations in such families for such children or homeless women.

3. To investigate from time to time the conditions of such children and have them placed out in family homes and the condition and circumstances of the homes themselves.

4. To assist in securing the transfer to state charitable institutions of dependent children in the county who are feeble-minded or epileptic or otherwise in need of special care or treatment.

5. To report monthly to the county superintendent of the poor or such other public official or officials as he may designate, the result of its investigations, and, in general, to perform such duties from time to time as the superintendent of the poor may require to assist him in the discharge of his duties with respect to the poor children of families in Ulster county.

A recent mandatory law makes it incumbent upon all counties to make an appropriation to boards of child welfare. The duty of these boards is important, but it is legally confined to the granting of allowance (or home relief) to women with young children whose husbands are dead or in state hospitals for the insane or in state prison for a term of five years or more, who have resided in Ulster county for two years and whose husband at the time of death was a citizen and a resident of New York state. Under the law, the board of child welfare can undertake no other duty in behalf of children in Ulster county.

A confusion as to the duties of the county board of child welfare and the children's agency of the State Charities Aid Association has resulted in the board of supervisors cutting down the appropriation to the children's agency (the agency which assists in looking after all destitute and neglected children) because it was now called upon to make an appropriation to the board of child welfare (which grant assistance only to a small number of women with destitute children).

The Ulster county committee of the State Charities Aid Association feels sure that the friends of children do not desire to handicap the work which the children's agent, Miss Martha Davis, is doing, by this reduction in appropriation, and that when the two lines of work are thoroughly understood a supplemental appropriation to the children's agency will be made by the generous board. It would be regrettable if Ulster county should take this backward step. The Ulster county committee of the State Charities Aid Association, together with others throughout the state, is looking forward to the establishment, at some future time, of one public centralized child caring agency for the county, which will perform all of the functions now devolving upon the children's agency and the board of child welfare, but until such a plan can be put into effect it feels that the county should support both the children's agency and the board of child welfare, as they are dealing with different groups of children.

Will you bring this matter, with the explanation of the difference in functions of the two organizations, to the attention of your supervisor?

Thanking you for your interest and co-operation, we are, very truly yours,

REAR ADMIRAL F. J. HIGGINSON
For the Committee.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, Dec. 16.—The Rev. Mr. Brandow of Schoharie county will preach in the Reformed Church on Sunday morning, December 19, at 11 o'clock. Sunday school held at 10 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

The children of the Sunday school are practicing for a Christmas entertainment to be held in the church Friday evening, December 24.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ennist have sold their home here and will spend the winter in New York city with their daughter, Mrs. Donald Everett. Mr. and Mrs. Ennist will be greatly missed in this vicinity.

Mrs. Neil Windrum and daughter, Margaret, who have been spending several weeks in New York city, have returned home.

Benjamin Van Steenburgh, who has been employed in New Jersey the past two years, has returned to his home here and is employed in the Boice mill at Ashokan.

Mr. Kreckler of New York city spent Tuesday and Wednesday at his summer home here.

E. E. Bedell has bought a team of horses and is drawing ties for Z. P. Boice.

William Shultis is having a new roof put on his house.

Cause for Gratitude.

If we find but one to whom we can speak out our heart freely, with whom we can walk in love and simplicity, we have no ground of quarrel with the world.

CORN BREAD, PIPING HOT

WHEN Captain John Smith and his little band of colonists landed in Virginia in 1607, they almost immediately learned from the Indians the secret of corn-meal. And it wasn't very many years later that a historian of the times was writing that the Virginians "daily bake cakes, eating too much hot and new bread, which cannot be wholesome tho it be pleasant".

Today, however, you can make any kind of hot bread even pleasanter than the colonists of the Old Dominion ever knew—by using Spredit. Spredit is half the price of creamery butter. It is the delicious nut-butter you have heard about—delicate in flavor and a wonderful economy.

Get The Grinding Habit

If a food expert came along and outlined a plan to you whereby you could save from 12 to 20 per cent of the food you and your family have been in the habit of eating—if he outlined such a plan which would not necessitate any sacrifice on your part, you'd follow it, wouldn't you?

While we won't attempt to tell you how you and your family can live more cheaply, we will, however, undertake to outline a very simple plan whereby you can save from 12 to 20 per cent of the food ordinarily eaten by your live stock, involving no sacrifice to the stock. It is just this—GROSS YOUR FEED:

Gross feed is readily digested so that the full food value is utilized and converted into beef, butter, horse power or pork. The saving over feeding whole feed, as already indicated, amounts to from 12 to 20 per cent, which represents the proportion of whole feed that passes through the intestinal tract undigested and wasted.

GET THE GRINDING HABIT— and do your grinding with an INTERNATIONAL PUMP GRINDER.

RED BLOOD MEANS HEALTH

Pepto-Mangan Recommended by Physicians as Red Blood Maker.

How would your blood stand a test today? If you feel run down, look pale, lack enthusiasm, your blood would show too few red corpuscles. Your blood would be weak. If you will take Pepto-Mangan every day for a few weeks the red corpuscles in your blood will increase in number and then you will look better. Your complexion will be better. Your natural good color will come back. You will feel so much better and stronger. Disease germs will be fought off.

It pays to keep your blood in good shape. Pepto-Mangan—that wonderful blood tonic—will help you do it. Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. You can buy it in either liquid or tablet form. The medicinal properties are the same.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by the name and be sure the full name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan"—is on the package.—Advertisement.

Treasurer.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MRS. EMEU.

"How I've improved things," said Mrs. Emeu.

"Might I be so bold as to ask what you have improved?" asked Mr. Emeu.

"Well, I've seen to it that the Mr. Emeus didn't become spoilt."

"Haven't all the Mrs. Emeus seen to that?" asked Mr. Emeu.

"Ah yes, they have. They have been a fine lot. It has all been because of the first Mrs. Emeu. She was a leader if there ever was one. She told what she had done to the Miss and Mrs. Emeus who came after her, and she asked us all to follow her example which we all have done. We've all helped improve things."

"None of us have ever changed. We've all been as she was, and as I said before, she was a great leader."

"Just think, thousands or hundreds or some such number of Mrs. Emeus have followed in the footsteps of the first Mrs. Emeu."

"Of course they haven't exactly followed in her footsteps. That is, they haven't walked where she has walked."

"They have gone in different yards and walked on different grounds, but their ways have been the same, and so we say they have followed in her footsteps."

"We're queer looking creatures and our funny heads often make people laugh. Our necks are covered with collars which look like hay, and our heads are quite amusing. Our heads are rather pointed and our little eyes look out at the world in a funny way."

"We don't look out at the whole world," said Mr. Emeu.

"Well, you know what I mean," said Mrs. Emeu. "From our yard here in the zoo we gaze upon the people who pass, and people help to make up the world, and so I say we gaze at the world."

"It's far easier than saying each time that we gaze at people and that people help to make up the world."

"We come from Australia, you know, and they call us birds. I believe. We're almost as large as the ostrich family, but not quite. I mean that each of us is almost as large as an ostrich, that is what I mean."

"Of course, I don't mean the South American ostrich, for we are each larger than each of them. But I mean that we were almost as large as the African ostrich."

"Do you agree, Mr. Emeu?"

"Certainly, certainly," said Mr. Emeu.

"I was speaking," said Mrs. Emeu, "of the fine way we met and of the way the first Mrs. Emeu taught us all to go."

"We lay the eggs and then we make our mates look after the eggs and care for the young. All we do is to lay the eggs. We don't do any of the sitting or watching or waiting or training of the young."

"The first Mrs. Emeu said, young Mrs. Emeus, and young Miss Emeus who will soon find your mates, do not wear yourselves all out in working. Change the scheme of things and make your mates do the work."

"You will find that they can do it, too. Mr. and Mrs. Ostrich take turns in sitting on the eggs, but don't even do as much work as that. Just let Mr. Emeu do everything but the laying of the eggs."

"And you will be interesting and different, and creatures will say, 'Ostriches, aren't they the bosses?'"

"Please remember my words, for these are the ways that emeus should do."

"And we have remembered. Even here in the zoo where we also lay the eggs, we get our mates to do all the work, and it is just as I said it is most interesting."

"We were queer looking with our great long legs like stilts and our heads which look like hay stalks. And now we are in the spring—we get a sort of dress which keeps the lower part of our bodies from the cold."

"But it is interesting, for we make our mates do the work for us, and we lay the eggs, and we care for the young, and we are the bosses."

Edward Was Perished.

Mr. Emeu was without a mate, and he found it necessary to leave Edward in the zoo, and he was quite often asked to look after him.

The day after the day of his death, Edward was found dead. He was lying with his head under a log.

"Oh, no!" said the little following emeus, and they all went to a sad party."

ONE WITH LEVER

Architect's Theory of the Pyramids.

See Anything Remarkable in the Raising of the Enormous Egyptian Sarcophagi.

Could an old Yankee farmer, with only of ancient Egyptians to help him, run up a pyramid with no other mechanical device than a simple lever? Mr. Benedict, an architect of New York, Conn., avers, in a letter, that he would be willing to take a contract for the work on these conditions: "If the ancient Egyptians in unlimited quantities are no longer to be had for the asking, he is probably safe in so saying, he is probably safe in so saying."

"It is my belief," Mr. Benedict writes, "gained as a boy working on a farm, and as a carpenter, with the knowledge acquired from my reading and practice as an architect, that the blocks of stone were raised and placed in position by the very simple process of using the lever and fulcrum, using the weight of the block or blocks to help lift itself."

"If you will look over the illustrations showing some of the methods used by the people of those times you will see that they understood perfectly the use of the lever and fulcrum."

"Did you ever watch a farmer and his boy pry a ton or two of stone out of a hole? Possibly they had a lever, but as a general thing the farmer was a maple sapling cut from the nearby woods. The rock was rough, with rounded sides, difficult to get a bite on, but that rock was cut out of that hole. Neither the farmer nor the boy had studied the science of engineering, but they understood the use of the lever and fulcrum and how the weight of the stone would help lift itself."

"In the case of the Pyramids, each block or inset would be used as part of the blocking, thus minimizing the quantity of blocking by using what had been released over again."

"When each successive level was reached, the outer edge of the block would be raised and the block slid into place on greased slides or rollers; this method would have the corners the best to be fitted, thus giving each block its sides or ways to work from and making the most accurate fitting possible."

"Groups of men could work on all four sides, three or four gangs on a side at first, thus making comparatively rapid progress."

"I presume the builders thought the process of lifting the stones so simple that it wouldn't pay to commemorate it by 'carving' it on the side of the pyramid."

"I do not deny that building the pyramids was a big undertaking, but I would like to see a man who could do it. I am convinced in my mind that if I could get some of the old Yankee farmers I have known in my times and the unlimited help of these times, I would be willing to take a contract to build another pyramid, using the process described."—Century Digest.

Copy Mother Eve's Costume.

Deep in the heart of India there live a tribe of natives known as the 'leaf wearers'. There are about 11,000 of the tribe, and as far as is known they are the last remnants of the human race that emerged from the animal life of the jungle. They come as near to being apes as any human being can. The same leaf wearer was given names of their custom of dressing their women in leaves—undressing, after, for the custom consists of two pieces of leaves, one in front and one in back—that are thrust into a lot of string decorated with clay ornaments. This dress is changed each day, and as a result the outskirts of their villages are ankle deep in the discarded leaves. The legend of the tribe declares that the goddess of the Balm river, emerging from her home in the rocks, saw several of the young women dancing without even a leaf. She was outraged and ordered the leaf down with the threat that, should the tribe abandon it, the curse of death would fall on the women and the tribe be exterminated.

Chinese Need Farming Tools.

There is a growing interest in improved farm implements in China, which is creating possibilities for the sale of certain hand tools and small machines especially adapted to the needs of the Chinese. Except in the developed portions of the north-west, China cannot use farm machinery to the same extent that we do in the United States, because the amount of land owned by one man is so small and in too small fields. But a United States consular business agent in the United States has studied the Chinese who have studied agriculture, either at home or abroad, as well as landowners and farmers with education enough to know their improved implements exist, and he has purchased a number of implements, study of the following kinds: Light plows, harrows, cultivators, small cutters, wheel hoes and irrigation pumps operated by animal power.

Powers Develops Oil Industry.

Powers is engaged in developing her oil industry, which has long been known. It is said that the very first oil in the world was made at Powers. There commenced four oil wells. To a great extent they were failures, but it is said that in 20 years a rich oil has been developed at that place.

Great Gully Reported in Norway.

It is a curious fact that gullies appear in Norway more than in the south of Europe, an advantage due to the long day and short nights of the summer in the north.

HIS DEBT TO ESKIMO WOMEN

Life of Famous Churchman of the Yukon Saved by the "Black-lookers" They Had Made.

That Hudson Strait, noted archdeacon of the Yukon, who died recently, should for 15 years have escaped the death from freezing and hardships which he suffered a hundred times a year, may have been due to a special protection of Providence, but in one case at least, he owed his life to the strong teeth of Eskimo women, according to a Seattle dispatch.

He told this story himself the last time he was in the States. It happened just when the first thaws were setting in one spring. An Indian runner brought him an urgent call for help from the missions on the Koryuk, far north of the Yukon, a call that could not wait until the rivers were open and the days of dangerous travel past.

So the archdeacon started from Fairbanks on foot, with one Indian and a dog team. They followed the Tanana to the Yukon, reaching the great river at midnight, and striking out across the ice on a sharp diagonal which lengthened the crossing to five miles. It had been biting cold under the lee of the shore, and on the unsheltered river Dr. Stuck's thermometer registered 50 degrees below zero.

Four miles of ice were behind them when trouble began. First there was a vast greasiness of the river and thin cracks zigzagged away from them in all directions.

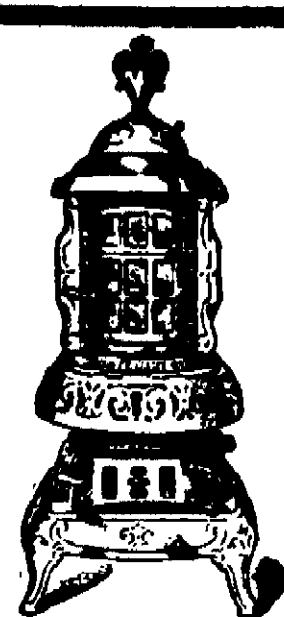

Experience told them that the strong currents below the northern bank were at work again after their winter's rest. As they turned back toward the stronger footing behind them, the ice broke sharply at their feet, and before they could throw themselves flat they were wet to the thighs in the chilly water.

Fortunately one section of the ice coast within reach held firm and they were on their feet again in an instant, knowing that their only hope against death by freezing in that terrific cold was a four-mile race to shore and a brushwood fire.

"We could never have won that race," concluded the archdeacon, "if dry feet and the circulation pumped to them by the tremendous effort of our running hadn't helped us. Otherwise we should have frozen to death on the first mile. Our lives were saved by our leather mukluks, the high native boots whose seams have been chewed to a watertight pulp between the teeth of the Eskimo women."

Firearms.

Firearms are said to have been first used in European warfare in the fourteenth century. The first weapon of this kind that passed into general use was the hand gun, which was of very rude construction. It consisted of a simple iron or brass tube, fixed in a straight stock of wood. An improvement was made in the reign of Edward IV, when a cock was affixed to the hand gun to hold the match which was brought down to the priming by a trigger, whence the term matchlock.

Then came the wheel lock and about 1686 the firelock or flintlock. It was the weapon of Marlborough's and Wellington's armies and became known as "Brown Bess." In 1834 the percussion cap, invented by Rev. Alexander John Forsyth, was successfully tested at Woolwich. In 1839 the flintlock muskets were altered to suit the percussion cap. The percussion musket of 1842 continued in use in the British army until partially superseded by the Minie rifle in 1851, and altogether by the Enfield rifle in 1855, and since then the breech-loading, magazine rifle has been perfected.

MEETINGS OF FARM BUREAU

The Farm Bureau will hold two meetings on the spray information service, one at Marlborough in the fire company's rooms on Tuesday, December 21, at 2 p. m., and one at the Milton Men's Club at 8 p. m., on the same day.

A. B. Buchholz, Farm Bureau manager of Columbia county and a fruit grower of Columbia county, will be present, and speak on the value of the spray information service in Columbia county during the last two years.

The Farm Bureau committee at Milton and Marlborough are hoping to have a large attendance at both meetings.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

Waist 3077. Skirt 3078.

A pleasing costume is shown in this combination of Ladies' Waist Pattern 3077 and Ladies' Skirt Pattern 3078. Serge is here shown with matched satin for vest, and for facings on collar and cuffs. This Advertisement.

design would be attractive in black satin and crepe, or in velvet and satin, duvetyne, broadcloth, crepe de mouton and crepe de chine are also desirable for its development. The waist is cut in 8 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. It is a good model for mature figures.

The skirt is cut in 7 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, and 34 inches waist measure.

For a medium size 5 1/2 yards of 44 inch material will be required for the entire costume.

The width of the skirt at lower edge is about 1 1/2 yard.

This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 12 cents for each pattern in coin or stamps by The Freeman Pattern Department, Houndout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 12c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1920 and 1921 catalogue, containing 650 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, Dec. 16.—The Epworth League meeting on Sunday was led by Mrs. Horace Myers. The topic was "Progressive Living." 2 P. M. 1-1-8.

The Rev. G. W. Thompson passed through here on Friday to hold meeting at the Tabasco school house.

We are glad to hear that Nina Christiana is improving from her recent operation at the hospital.

Mrs. Adeline Van Kleeck returned on Sunday from her visit with her son, Jerry, at Tabasco.

On Wednesday evening, December 22, there is to be an entertainment in the hall, after which an oyster supper will be served. Everybody interested in the church is cordially invited to attend and help in any way possible to make this entertainment and supper a success, both socially and financially. If stormy, next fair evening.

Gets Florida Oranges.

Mrs. Alice Lounsbury of 59 Johnston avenue, has received from Orlando, Florida, a box of luscious oranges, as a present from her daughter, Mrs. Gleason, who is spending the winter in Florida.

HOW

MOTHERS NAMED THE NAMES OF ANCIENT BABYLON.

—Whenever an auspicious event occurred either before or about the time a baby was born, Babylonian parents were prompted to call him or her by that name or some cognomen similar to it. Archaeologists trace these parents; by means of the children's names in birth records and on tombstones, they discover historical events of which they had before no records.

In like manner, clay documents of a certain period show that newborn children were being given, in large numbers, names alike, one or two names being the favorites. They were being called in honor of some king or some man who had accomplished much about the time they were born.

Presto! the scholars look up to him! They may have to dig through thousands of tablets and spend years over the task before they come across his name or find material to reconstruct his story. But eventually documents concerning him will be dug out of the earth.

It is as though our United States were buried beneath the soil of countless centuries, and men began to dig for birth registers. The number of George Washingtons they would find at one period, and of Abraham Lincolns at another!

One result of the late war in Europe was the naming of babies "Tankie" in England, after the advent of the tanks. Surely Babylonians' list can yield no more eccentric name for us!

BY ARRANGEMENT OF HAIR

How Women of Japan Signify to Their Admirers Their Inclination as to Marriage.

Wouldn't it be helpful if one could tell at a glance whether the fair feminine person who has caught our eye is a maiden willing to wed, a widow who is inconsolable, or one who is willing to be consoled? They have it arranged that way in Japan.

The Japanese women have certain ways of arranging the hair to indicate their state and feelings, and as they do not wear hats, all who run may read. Girls who would wed arrange the hair in front in the form of a fan or butterfly, and adorn it with silver or colored ornaments. Widows who are looking for second husbands fasten their hair at the back of the head by means of tortoiseshell pins, and widows who are resolved to remain faithful to their departed spouses cut their hair short and wear no ornaments in it.

How Ants "Clean House."

The late Professor Garner writes in the Century Magazine about a novel way of exterminating vermin in Central Africa. This was simply to welcome into his house one of the hordes of ants that are always on the move in that country. "When the drivers came," he says, "they worked with the thoroughness of a vacuum cleaner. They swarmed up the walls and roof into every cranny, killing and eating any kind of vermin they found there. Then for a short time at least we would be absolutely free of house pests of every description. When, for any reason, we did not want to receive the house-cleaners, we had the native servants drive them back with torches."

How Wind Built Icebergs.

Two picturesque "icebergs" were formed on the northwest shore of Green bay, last spring, after continued strong winds, breaking the floating ice in the bay, had pushed it bodily toward the coast. For several miles along the shore of the upper bay the cakes were piled high by the steady pressure. Only at one point, however, about six miles south of Escanaba, were the bergs erected. Here the piled-up cakes mounted higher and higher, until in one instance they built an ice mound 50 or 60 feet high. A neighboring pile measured about ten feet shorter. The bayward sides of the "bergs" were practically perpendicular; the lee sides sloped at about 45 degrees. These sloping sides were composed of a mass of shattered, lidless chips, produced by the grinding of the cakes. Popular Mechanics Magazine.

How Fish Forestall Storms.

Codfish have been known to actually take in bait before a storm. Some time ago a number of cod were caught off the coast of Newfoundland, 12 hours before a severe gale. It was found that all of them had swallowed pieces of which weighed three or four ounces. Sea archers will try and rig up under the mud, or at least cover themselves with mud before a storm, while codfish cover themselves with mud in a much more effective manner. All cod have been found to be swimming when a storm is coming, and it is possible that they are actually forestalling the storm by swimming in the water of a storm.

How Scurvy Is Brought On.

Experimenters in the United States and Germany in the research laboratory of the Western Polytechnic Hospital, Pittsburgh, have demonstrated that scurvy is not a bacterial disease but the result of deficiencies in diet.

RESERVISTS MAY CRUISE

In Southern Waters With Atlantic Fleet.

Naval reservists will be given an opportunity early in January to volunteer for active duty with the Atlantic fleet on the southern trip. The commandant, Third Naval district, has been authorized to recall to active duty for training seven officers not above the rank of lieutenant, junior grade, and one hundred and sixty enlisted reservists of the Third Naval district who desire to volunteer for the coming cruise of the Atlantic fleet to southern waters. The vessels of the fleet will leave about January 3rd, 1921, and will visit Guantanamo, Panama, Callao, Peru. Reservists volunteering will remain on active duty at least four months or until returning to the United States.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, Dec. 16.—A Christmas tree and entertainment will be held in the M. E. Church on Thursday evening, December 23 beginning at 7 o'clock.

Following the entertainment a hot chicken supper will be served in the hall adjoining. The menu is as follows: Chicken, mashed potatoes, creamed turnips, baked beans, hot biscuits and gravy, pickles, jelly, cheese and cake. Everybody welcome.

A number from this place attended the play and chicken supper at Glenfield on Tuesday night.

The Misses Billa and Mary Allen and Vera Jones were Kingston visitors on Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Burland spent Wednesday in Kingston.

George Weeks, of Stone Ridge delivered a fine load of pumpkins to Charles Davis on Monday.

Ashokan, Dec. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Monroe French of Brooklyn, who have been visiting friends in Ashokan left for home last Friday taking her sister, Mrs. Peter Winchell, with them for the winter.

George Barclay is on a business trip to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bogart who have been visiting friends in Ashokan and Shokan have returned home.

Charles Jones of Delaware spent the week-end at George Barclay's visiting with his daughter, Miss Olive Jones Barclay.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rider and daughter visited Sunday with Mrs. Seymour Wilson.

Miss Laura Moe visited at Mt. Pleasant Monday and Tuesday.

There will be a meeting at the Old School Baptist Church December 19 at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. Saturday night's meeting at Walter Bogart's at 7:30 o'clock.

No Reason.

Governor Stewart of Montana, oldest in point of service of all the forty-eight state executives, was in New York last week on his way to his last session of the governor's conference, being held at Harrisburg, Pa. He was asked if he was going to visit Washington.

"I'd like to know," he said, "why a Democrat should go to Washington now."

CHAMPION BOWLER

At Elks' Club—Anyone May See Exhibition.

Mort Lindley of New Haven, Conn., who holds the title as the best single bowler in this country, will be at the Elks' Club alleys on Saturday afternoon and evening, prepared to bowl any of the local bowlers, and will give an exhibition of how difficult plays can be made. Mr. Lindley and Homer Emerick of this city were partners in the doubles at the international bowling tournament held at Peoria, Ill., about two years ago. Anyone interested in bowling, whether an Elk or not, is invited to come to the Elks' Club on Saturday and see Mr. Lindley bowl.

Late Of Them.

First movie director watching the director of another company at work!—That's a corking mob scene! There must be 200 men trying to break into the front door of that house, and fully 200 at the back door. It must have cost you something for all those extras.

Second Director—Only a couple of dollars. I put these two ads in the paper. Wanted for the movie, a man that looks like George Washington; apply at Front door. "Wanted for the movie, a man that looks like Napoleon; apply at back door."—Film Fun.

Betwixt and Between.

Elsie—Did you accept either of the men who proposed to you last night?
May—No, father wouldn't let me.
"Why?"
"He said he didn't know anything about Mr. Truelove and he knew too much about Mr. Twolove."—London Answers.

HAD SOMETHING TO OFFER

Fair Maiden Couldn't Resist the Last Plea Made by Her Devoted Admirer.

The young man flung himself at her feet and pleaded his cause passionately.

"Miss Wopkins—Elizabeth—I love you with a love that will endure through the ages to the end of time. Will you marry me?"

She shook her head and lit a sweetly scented Turkish cigarette. "I will be your slave! My prospects are good; my salary will keep us in comfort; and I am the heir to the wealth of my old Aunt Jemima!"

But the girl snorted contemptuously. "Listen!" she panted. "My brother-in-law can let me have two unfurnished rooms."

She flung her arms around his clean collar and breathed down his neck: "Darling, I am yours!"

NOTE MADE MUCH TROUBLE

Error in Printing Caused Hotel Clerk to Fear His Mind Was Becoming Clouded.

Uncle Sam rarely makes mistakes in his bank note printing, but one of the most famous errors he did make was that of the Kansas City bank note which bore a $100 face and a $50 back. The single note was paid out by the bank as a $100 note to a customer, and he turned it over to a local hotel for the same amount. All went well until the cashier in checking up the day's receipts found he was $50 short. He recounted the money and it was correct. Just to make sure he counted it a third time and found himself $50 short again.

For 15 minutes he counted and recounted, and as last, convinced that his mind was giving way, he called the manager, who underwent the same experience. Both clerk and manager had counted the bills by stacking them on the right, pulling off a bill and placing it on the left, turning the bill over as they did so. The error was discovered by a third clerk, who was called in by the frightened hotel official, when he counted the bills one by one and examined both sides. The bill was turned into the Treasury department.

Hardly a Sinecure

Lots of money and little work is the popular conception of a magistrate's life in the South Sea Islands. This idea does not exactly jibe with the colonial office report for 1919, relating to the Gilbert and Ellice Islands. The report laments the disappearance of the old order of senior native government officials. "On an island such as Tahitea," adds the report, "50 miles in length, the magistrate is responsible for the good order of 4,000 turbulent and mercurial natives, whose feuds, fights, crimes, sickness, and squabbles, births, deaths, marriages, villages, crops, fisheries and complaints are the subject of his incessant attention. He must watch over their relations with traders and missionaries, protecting the rights of all parties; he is responsible for large male and female prisons and their rationing, for the good order of all registers and accounts kept by the Scribe, for the character and efficiency of 70 junior village officials, and he has the infinitely difficult task of keeping the peace between the antagonistic Christian sects and the pagans. For this he receives $120 a year."

Lobster Cook: Yes, but I'll pinch him just!

Puppy's Mortifying Experience.
With a length of drain pipe fastened tightly to his head, a fox terrier at Maidstone, Eng., reached his home the other day after nearly a week's absence. The little fellow had evidently chased a young rabbit into a field drain and trying to follow had wedged his head in so tightly he could not withdraw it. However he "wigged" the pipe tightly for some days, until he broke the last length free, and managed to back all the way home. A hammer to the head of his master soon released him.

When Was Outwitted.
A big snail, while tried to use the vacuum Philadelphia as a scraper to remove his burrows, near the Irish coast on the Star's last trip. But the cunning big thing got across the bow of the ship and could not get away owing to the speed at which it was being pushed along, brashly on. The vacuum sucked up the snail and the whole crew up his tail went down for repairs.

Many Species of Cats.
There are about 100 species of cats, and there are countless other cats every quarter of the globe. The tiger, both are found in the warmer regions.

LUSK SLATED AS SENATE LEADER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Senator Clayton R. Lusk of Cortland, slated to be the Republican leader of the senate, was in Albany yesterday for conferences with retiring leaders. Senator Lusk merely smiled when questioned in reference to his candidacy for the leadership.

"You can never tell what will happen at a caucus," the senator declared in response to the many questions hurled at him.

Despite his reticence Senator Lusk has been chosen to direct the party program in the upper house. There were reports that Senator John B. Mullen of Rochester would be an acceptable candidate for the post, but it is known that Senator Mullen has retired from the race.

Senator Charles W. Walton of Kingston, also mentioned as possibility, has never announced his candidacy.

There were rumors that Republicans were considering the organization of a steering committee in the senate, similar to one employed by the Tammany organization in the upper house several years ago. It is recalled, however, that Tammany's experiment lasted only six months. Should the Republicans adopt this scheme of senatorial government, Senator Lusk will be the floor leader, with Senators Mullen and Walton acting in an official advisory capacity. Either Senators Mullen or Walton would take Senator Lusk's place in his absence. It is said that Senator Burlingame may be included in the membership of the steering committee.

Farm Women's Long Hours

The Kansas Industrialist remarks that an extensive survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture shows 86 per cent of the farm women do the family washing and more than half of them are still using the washboard. Sixty-one per cent of the farm women carry water an average of forty feet. Ninety-two per cent do the family sewing and mending, and a large majority do the family baking.

The farm women's work day averages eleven and one-half hours, the survey shows. The department is co-operating with state colleges of agriculture in an effort to bring about better conditions for women on the farm, especially more home conveniences. As a result of this work a thousand farm kitchens were remodeled last year.

One Exception.

MILTON MAN IS RE-ELECTED

Fred W. Vall of Milton was re-elected a vice-president of the New York Federation of Agriculture, at the closing session in Rochester Wednesday. Other officers re-elected were: President, Frank M. Bradley of Appelon; vice-presidents Samuel Fraser of Geneva, and Robert Seaman of Jericho; secretary, Seth J. Bush of Morton; treasurer, Fred W. Cornwall of Pultneyville.

Resolutions were adopted, demanding that the railroads be compelled to build at least 20,000 new refrigerator cars to handle farm produce, and that the federal government take steps to facilitate the expense of surplus dairy products.

A man in a threadbare coat and a week's beard came out of a downtown mission, where he had signed the pledge and joined the church, only to be nabbed for theft a half hour later.

"Why did you make off with the pocketbook you saw this lady drop in the street?" demanded the judge in court.

"It's all the minister's fault," declared the thief, in deprecation. "I went to him discouraged and out of money, and he told me I must learn to take things as I found them."—Judge.

ELLENVILLE.
Ellenville, Dec. 17.—Mrs. William Weser and two daughters, Alice and Laura, left Wednesday to join Mr. Weser in New York, where they will spend a few days. They will then start for California, where they intend to make their home. Mr. and Mrs. George Lauber of Dairyland will occupy the Weser home on Center street.
Don't forget the cake and candy sale at George Hornbeck's store on Saturday at 2 p. m., for the benefit of the starving millions in Europe. Miss Ellen Watson entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home on Monday evening, December 13.

Mrs. Della Fuller of this place has gone to Brooklyn, where she will spend the winter with her sister, Robert Torwilliger, who is attending the Worcester Academy at Worcester, Mass., is at home for the holidays.

KINGSTON MAN NAMED TREASURER

Charles R. O'Connor Elected to Office in Hudson Valley Federated Chamber of Commerce—George E. McCoy of Peekskill is President—St. Lawrence Canal Idea Scored.

Charles R. O'Connor, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, was elected treasurer of the Hudson Valley Federated Chamber of Commerce at its meeting in the Ten Eyck Hotel, Albany, Thursday. Other officers elected were George E. McCoy, of Peekskill, president; Graham W. Schiefel, of Newburgh, honorary vice-president; Albert R. Beal, Newburgh, vice-president; D. W. Wilbur, Poughkeepsie, vice-president; Alexander Stolz, Yonkers, vice-president; Allen C. Madden, Middletown, secretary; board of directors, Peter C. Ten Eyck of Albany, William R. Frank of Poughkeepsie, Benjamin H. H. of New York, R. F. C. Kiel of Beacon, R. T. Cameron of Walden, James A. Beattie of Troy, Alfred Miller of Haverstraw, William Belknap of Ossawana and S. Charles Goodrich of Newburgh. Appointees were Peter C. Ten Eyck, chairman of the executive committee; William E. Fitzsimmons of Albany, legislative representative; M. H. Williams of New York, advisory engineer, and Benjamin H. H. of New York, counsel.

The federation opened its conference at a luncheon in the Ten Eyck at which Governor Smith delivered an address. In his speech he recommended that a state board of pardons be formed to relieve the governor of the responsibilities of final decision on death penalties. He also recommended the completion of the port treaty between New York and New Jersey, and further utilization of large canal facilities by private enterprises.

The federation passed a resolution placing the body on record as being in favor of the expenditure of American money for American projects for the American people. This was passed in retaliation to the attempt to have American money spent on the development of the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river. The port treaty between New York and New Jersey and revised plans to broaden the Storm King highway and make it safe for motorists were also indorsed in resolutions.

At the afternoon session Colonel Greene, state highway commissioner, outlined the state's plan for highway development. General Andrews spoke on the military training commission's work.

Cards in Ancient Pack.

The playing cards of the Fourteenth century differed materially from the pack in use today. The Venetian pack, for example, consisted of 78 cards—22 of them marked with emblems of various kinds and 56 with numerals, divided into four suits of 14 cards each.

Card of Thanks.

We wish at this time to express to our neighbors and friends who either by their acts of kindness words expressed, or in the sending of floral tokens expressed their sympathy to us in the hour of our bereavement. We also desire to extend to the Kingston City Hospital our sincere thanks for all that they did for us.

MARKET OFFICIALS FOR COOPERATION

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Dec. 17.—Reduction in cost of food distribution in this country is possible only through organization or more cooperative marketing associations, the standardization of products and the improvement of transportation, storage and terminal facilities, according to a statement today by Dr. Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner of foods and markets, telling of the conclusions reached by the National Association of State Marketing Officials at its convention just closed in Chicago.

More adequate financing of farm and marketing operations was also pointed to as a vital need in the present situation. Other remedies touched upon in the report are the licensing of commission men and cold storage warehouses in every state and the organization of consumers' cooperative associations. Greater economy was also demanded in the distribution of all foodstuffs as necessary to eliminate waste and to benefit producer and consumer. Reports adopted by the association emphasize the necessity for more extensive investigation as to the cost of distribution of food commodities from the point of production to the consumer's kitchen. A plan was approved for wider distribution of market information through newspapers and telegraph and wireless information centers. Beginning next month the wireless will be used by the Federal Bureau for the transmission of market information.

Officers were elected by the National Association as follows: L. G. Foster of Wisconsin—President. Daniel C. Rogers, Missouri—Treasurer. W. A. Munson, Massachusetts—Secretary. These three officers compose the executive committee with Dr. Eugene H. Porter of New York, the retiring president, and George Livingston, director of the United States Bureau of Markets.

GRAY LEAVES BENEDICTINE

Glenford Youth, Making Remarkable Recovery After Accident in Which Brother Lost Life, Is at Mother's Home—Was Unusual Case For Surgeons.

George Gray of Glenford, who was fractured in a motorcycle accident on the Kingston-West Hurley road on Saturday evening, November 6, in which his brother, Ronald Gray, was killed, has left the Benedictine Sanitarium and returned to the home of his mother at Glenford.

Gray's head has healed, his mind is now entirely clear and his improvement continues within a very short time his eyesight will be entirely normal.

The recovery of Gray is one of the most remarkable cases which the county surgeons have had in a long time. He was unconscious when taken to the Sanitarium, and on account of his condition it was not deemed wise to operate. He remained in an unconscious condition but at the end of several days he began to sink rapidly, and after a consultation among members of the medical and surgical staff of the Sanitarium, an operation was deemed advisable as a last chance to save his life. Accordingly, the operation was performed by Drs. Harry P. Van Wagonen, William J. and John G. O'Leary, who drained the brain of a quantity of pus which had formed at the base of the skull. An immediate improvement was noticed in Gray's condition but a few days afterward he again suffered a relapse and another operation was performed, since when he has had constant attention and the wound has been regularly dressed. Following the second operation Gray showed improvement and he has continued to improve steadily until his condition became so good that he was allowed to return home. Before leaving the sanitarium he was informed of his brother's death. He does not recall how the accident occurred, and only knows that he and his brother were traveling at a rapid rate toward Kingston, where they were to meet two young ladies whom they had invited to accompany them to the theatre. Whether they struck a stone in the road or whether the motorcycle skidded, probably never will be known. The theory that they were struck by an automobile going in the opposite direction was abandoned long ago.

In attending the fracture, the utmost care was necessary, and it could not be reduced in the way the ordinary fracture is cared for because the slightest additional pressure on the brain tissue was apt to have immediate fatal results.

In Prussian Silesia, Scene of Bitter Feeling.

By Telegram to the Freeman.
London, Dec. 17. A British officer has been killed by a former German army officer at Kattowitz, in Prussian Silesia, and a news agency dispatch from Berlin today.

(Kattowitz lies in that section of Prussia where a plebiscite is soon to be held to determine whether the territory shall remain under the German flag or be annexed by Poland. Bitter hostility has arisen between the Poles and the Germans and all kinds of trouble are on the way to produce order. An allied mission also is on the scene.)

Christmas—Here and There!

SUGGESTED BY THE CHRISTIAN APPEAL OF THE NEAR EAST RELIEF

In America

God rest you, merry gentlemen,
Let nothing you dismay,
Remember, Christ our Saviour,
Was born on Christmas Day—
—Old Christmas Carol

Over Here, is gladness—
Over There, is death;
Here, a merry Christmas—
Only sorrow, There.

Over Here, with singing
Greet us this great Day—
There, the dead lie, motionless,
Till the dawn away.

In the Near East

Over Here, rejoicing:
Feast and sport and fun—
There, grim hunger, waiting
Victims freshly won

Over Here, a shelter,
Warm with love's own breath—
Over There, a water
Of shame and tears and death!

God rest you, merry gentlemen,
Be kindly, as you may—
Where life was born across the sea,
They plead for bread today!

A MAN FOR MISS PELHAM

By JANE OSBORN

"By the way, I've decided to get a man." Sarah Pelham did not speak as if she had made any more remarkable announcement than that she goes out to lunch, or any of the other things of daily occurrence in her office life in the advertising firm of Stone & Stone.

But William Stone drew up in his office chair and removed his shell-rimmed spectacles and looked at her closely. She was at the threshold of his office, about to return to her own.

"I said I was going to get a man," said Sarah Pelham with finality. "You told me to select my assistant without consulting you—that I should rely entirely upon my own judgment. And that is what I have decided. Now, I am going to advertise for some quick-witted young man who wants to learn the advertising business. Nowadays one has to pay women as much as men, and for what I have to offer I think I could get something better in the way of an ambitious young man than I could if I took on a woman."

And though William Stone wrinkled his brows in perplexity and disapproval and was inclined to argue about it, Sarah called serenely out of his sight to her own office.

And Sarah Pelham did get her man—a clean-cut, clear-eyed young man whose broad chest and shoulders and robustness would have led you to surmise—as was actually the case—that he had recently returned from service in France. And it was because he had just returned that he was willing to start in as Miss Pelham's assistant. He had been content to keep books in his father's unprogressive hardware store before he had gone overseas, but he had come back with a keen desire to get into the advertising business, and with the desire a willingness to begin at the bottom rung.

His name was Leslie Brown. From the first Sarah Pelham found him entirely to her liking. William Stone article to whom he gave orders out to lunch with him. But Sarah did not remind him of this.

"What's the idea of having him, anyway?" went on Mr. Stone. "I was thinking it over and I have never known a single woman in all my business experience who has had a man assistant. It's a funny notion, and I can't say that I am exactly stuck on it. What's the idea, anyway?"

"Well, for one thing," explained Sarah, "it saves a lot of time. If I had a girl and we became all friendly, I'd have to listen to her while she explained that she hadn't got to until half-past nine, because her mother had forgotten to wind the alarm clock, and then the maid didn't come to get breakfast and so on. Then I'd have to talk over her new clothes. She'd have her new hats sent here, and I'd have to give her my candid advice about them. Besides, I like a man's point of view. It puts punch in my copy. It's the combination of the masculine and the feminine—my intuition and judgment and his stronger grip."

William Stone did not find this explanation at all to his liking. "But it seems like disloyalty to your sex," he argued, "to say that you would rather work with a man than a woman—and you have always pretended to be such a feminist."

"Is it disloyalty to your sex to say that you wouldn't consider having a boy stenographer—that girls are more trustworthy, more reliable and pleasant to have around? I believe you have made that explanation."

"That's quite different," almost snapped William Stone. "Besides, I don't see why you should object to my having girl stenographers."

Sarah laughed, yet she felt in Mr. Stone's entire attitude toward her something that was vastly flattering to her. After having worked for Stone & Stone tirelessly for five years and never having been looked upon as anything more than a useful bit of machinery, it was gratifying to the woman in her to find this absurd spirit crop out in William Stone which she could not interpret as anything short of jealousy.

And so the weeks rolled on. Meantime Leslie Brown made progress, and perhaps at first, out of sheer desire to please William Stone, Sarah asked her assistant to have lunch with her—they could save time on a busy day.

She said, if they talked things over at lunch. Then one day William Stone approached Leslie whom he had scarcely spoken to before with the result that that day Leslie had lunch at William Stone's club. They were gone two hours, and they had said much in that time. When they parted at the door of the office of Stone & Stone, William slapped the younger man on the back.

After that Stone wore a smile that was in strong contrast to the look of gloom that had been his for the days previous.

The next day he asked Sarah Pelham to stay after 5 and talk to him. He had made this request before when there was pressing business. And as Sarah lived near the office and had no home ties, she was not inconvenienced.

But the business interview did not begin like the other business interviews. "It's a queer place to say what I'm going to say," he began, standing in front of the window in Sarah's office and looking intently at her. "But it is something I can't keep to myself any longer. Sarah Pelham, I want to marry you. I love you—and it's the kind of love that wants to keep you all to myself. It's torture having you here in an office, going about to other offices. Sarah Pelham, you do love me a little, don't you?"

Sarah Pelham had perhaps divined that William Stone loved her, but she was completely taken by surprise by this spirit of self-confidence.

"Yes, I think I do," she confessed. "But how did you—how did you know? I didn't want you to guess it so easily. That's why I tried to make you think I didn't."

"You succeeded perfectly," assured William. "Fact is I thought there was something between you and young Brown—that's what made me so jealous from the first. It was torture. I couldn't bring myself to ask you, so I took him to lunch and got my nerve up to ask him. And the young scamp's been engaged all the time. Fine fellow. I said more than I intended to—he seemed to guess how I felt about you. And I was thinking, Sarah Pelham that it was a good idea bringing in a man like that because now you and I can marry without doing much harm to Stone & Stone. Young Brown can work right into your job."

Alive After 2,000 Years.

Don't think that those mummies that were on that old book rack are when the baby had the crump have died of old age. Far from it. According to Dr. M. V. Gallipier, a noted French scientist, the life of a mummy mummy is practically endless. For years he has been experimenting, and he now states that he has seen mummies 2,000 years old. Taking an Egyptian mummy dating from about 200 years B. C., Dr. Gallipier has washed it in water and has seen mummies, dormant for centuries, move their arms and legs to completely new. Rather interesting, isn't it, but why do all the mummy things on the surface—the mummy things on the world?

Daily Thought.

Every person is responsible for all the good within the scope of his own life, and for no other; and none can tell where there is the largest field of action.

CENTENARY OF THE AMPERE

Effect of Wire Carrying a Current on a Magnet Was Discovered 100 Years Ago.

From the observance of this year, the centenary of the discovery and issuance of the fundamental electromagnetic laws, the derivation of the often-heard volt and ampere wherever people speak in terms of electricity, are brought to mind.

To Ampere, after whom we have named a unit of measurement of electrical energy, "the ampere," is credited the announcement on Sept. 15, 1820, of the laws governing the effect of a wire carrying a current upon a magnet, and also on Sept. 25 of the same year, the force action of one wire carrying a current upon another was announced. The paper by Ampere was frankly based upon the earlier work of Oersted, who discovered the effect of an electric current upon a compass needle and who explained the concentric nature of the magnetic field set up about a conductor carrying an electric current, but Ampere, nevertheless, is credited with the discovery.

Volta, in Italy, had already produced the voltaic pile, made of layers of copper and zinc separated by a wet cloth, in 1790. To him is also credited valuable research in electrical science, and from his name the unit "volt" is derived.

CHEWING GUM 50 YEARS OLD

John Adams, Photographer of Staten Island in 1870 Discovered the Possibilities of Chicle.

Chewing gum began its history in 1870. Up to this time the chicle or sap from the chicle trees of Mexico was known only to the Indians. A photographer on Staten Island secured a lump of it and sought to turn it to some account. For two years he attempted to make it a substitute for gutta serena or soft rubber. This having failed, he was about to throw it away when he happened to break off a bit and chewed it, according to the Detroit News.

In his photograph gallery back room the photographer, John Adams by name, continued to experiment with it, and in time evolved something resembling the gum of today. He began to peddle it about in small lots to nearby candy and drug stores, and by 1890 he was employing 250 hands in a six-story building. He died, leaving a fortune to his four sons of many millions. The "white gum," or "chewing wax," as it was known, was almost driven from the market by the new offering, and today is seldom seen. It is made from the gum of the New England spruce and from a parasite that is the residue of crude petroleum in process of refining.

"I Said I Was Going to Get a Man."

watched him narrowly as he sat at his desk that was placed in the outer office, conveniently near to the door that led into Miss Pelham's room.

One day he noticed that Sarah and "that young Brown," as he rather contemptuously called him, left the office together about lunch time. This was intensely annoying, so much so, in fact, that when he went to his own lunch he absentmindedly ordered a dish he never ate and left it untasted.

He made up his mind that he would not speak of the incident that annoyed him to Sarah Pelham. He never had interfered in the least with her goings and comings—in fact he had never in the five years that she had worked for him less the least interfered in her except as a useful member of the staff.

But, despite his resolution, he found himself gravitating into her room as soon as she had returned from lunch—which was some half-hour after he had returned.

"What's the idea?" he asked with a nod toward the outer office to the room where Leslie Brown's desk was placed. "Going to take lunch with that young Brown regularly?" he inquired.

Now, Sarah had not had lunch with Leslie Brown. They had gone out together because Sarah had wanted to take him to see a certain rather difficult client to whom she wanted to give Leslie a personal introduction before he was detailed to look after his business for her.

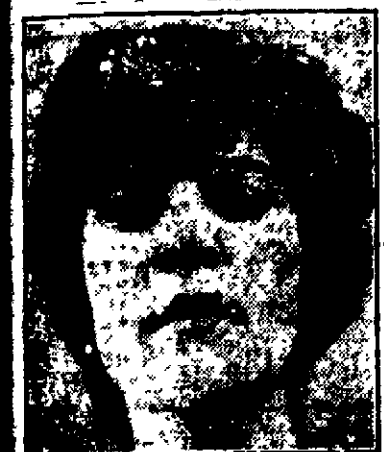

She had left Leslie making a splendid impression on the merchant while she slipped away to her lunch club. But she didn't explain this to William Stone. In fact, she hidged his question.

William Stone had been known in these parts to take attractive young

HAREN VICTIM TELLS HER STORY

When from her home on the night before her wedding and imprisoned for six years in a Turkish harem, Aghavni Millian, a beautiful nineteen-year-old Armenian girl from Bitlis, has at last been discovered by her fiancé and, through the assistance of the Near East Relief, forcibly taken from her captor and brought to one of the American Rescue Homes in Constantinople. Here she will stay until the Near East Relief Marriage Bureau makes arrangements for her marriage and her resettlement in her own home.

"My story—it is like hundreds of others," Aghavni said simply. "I was taken from my home on the night that the massacres first began in Bitlis. It was the night before I was to have been married. I was just folding my wedding veil away when the Turkish soldiers broke into the house. They carried me off. They took me up to Constantinople to the house of the 'harem.' She stopped and put one hand over her eyes, a hand that bore the white tattoo of her Turkish master. "But what does my story matter?" she exclaimed. "I am only one of so many. It is my people and their future that matters. Somehow we must rebuild our nation and show to the Turks who tried to beat out our life and to the whole world that, despite what we have suffered, Armenia is still unconquerable."

Aghavni Millian is, she says, only one of many. It is estimated that one hundred thousand girls are still held captive in Turkish harems.

The Near East Relief, America's official agent in Armenia, is making this part of rescue one of the most important features of its program, and it is to them and the support they receive from the American people that Armenia's unfortunate sisters, still captive, must look for their release.

Armenians in America, acting through E. K. Livingston, a rug importer of New York, recently delivered to Near East Relief a check for $150,000, representing contributions received recently from Armenians in this country for the relief work in their native land. The Executive Committee of Near East Relief would be appropriate from treasury funds double the amount of the Armenian contribution and to make the total of $300,000 immediately available for emergency relief work. The contributions by Armenians in the country to Near East Relief over the past several months have been:

In presenting the check to Dr. James I. Parsons, chairman of Near East Relief, 361 Madison Avenue, New York City, Mr. Livingston said: "Armenians who have made this country their home are in constant touch with relatives and friends in Armenia, and therefore are keenly aware of the help of America has meant. You have saved our native land. Over $300,000 worth would have been lost last year alone had you not supplied food. ### LAST REGULAR TOW OF SEASON

The last regular tow of the season will leave Kingston Saturday night for New York in charge of the Cornell Line tug Pocahontas. It is expected that there will be between 20 and 30 boats in the tow. While the last regular tow leaves that day there may be special tows as long as the river is open to navigation. Saturday, however, closes the regular Hudson river towing season.

The Norwich is now berthed in the old Mary Powell berth at Port Ewen where she will likely spend the remaining days of her existence.

The steamer Albany of the Hudson River Line is being thoroughly overhauled and repaired for next season at the Island Dock shipyard of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation.

The Poughkeepsie of the Central Hudson Line is the only boat of that line still in commission, and is plying between Kingston and New York, leaving here every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 1 o'clock, and Sunday at 9 o'clock, in the morning. She will continue running until stopped by the ice.

WAS PAINT BUT NOT "NOSE PAINT"

Seth Jocelyn, night janitor and jailor at the Ulster county court house, was treated to a birthday surprise Thursday night. Mrs. Jocelyn being the instigator. Among those present were Sheriff-elect William Kolts, former Sheriff Edgar T. Shultis and Mrs. Shultis, Under Sheriff Tamm Haukenbeck, C. Arthur Dolson, Mr. and Mrs. Jocelyn, and a few other near friends. There was a birthday supper with a birthday cake on which Mrs. Shultis had secretly placed eight lighted candles, but as Mr. Jocelyn's age is certainly six times eight years the eight candles were evidently meant as a common divisor and were equally applicable to Mr. Jocelyn's age as seven times eight years. Addresses were made by former Sheriff Shultis and Sheriff-elect Kolts, the latter giving no hint whether Mr. Jocelyn would be retained as the efficient night janitor and jailor by him during his term which begins on January 1, 1921. During the function Mr. Dolson presented Mr. Jocelyn with a two quart can of "White Seal," which can when opened was found to contain, instead of that kind of "paint" which under the trade mark "White Seal" had a world-wide reputation before the Volstead act became a law, just ordinary paint that is used by house painters.

More About The Humage Sale.

The women of the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church are selling a number of articles at their rummage sale in the building on Broadway next to Teller & Tappan's. However they are very much in need of children's toys, children's clothing, brooms and men's clothing. The stock now for sale is large and varied, despite the heavy inroads made upon it. The women will conduct a food sale in the same building tomorrow afternoon.

D'Annunzio's Hasn't Surrendered.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Rome, Dec. 17.—The terms of settlement agreed upon by Gabriele D'Annunzio and the parliamentary committee that visited him at Fiume are not satisfactory to the government. It was learned from a semi-official source today. According to reports from Fiume, discipline has begun to weaken among D'Annunzio's forces and disorders occur frequently.

Lockport Store Bombed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Lockport, N. Y., Dec. 17.—A bomb explosion this forenoon wrecked the front of the store of John Battaglia, West avenue, here, causing damage of $2,000. Splinters of wood pierced the right leg and arm of Battaglia's thirteen-year-old son, Dominic, inflicting painful injuries. Black hand agents are blamed.

Will Build Road In Spring.

Assemblyman Simon Van Wagenen of Sloughsburg, who has the contract to build the Rosendale village state highway, said today that owing to the lateness of the season it would be impossible to accomplish much this year. He expects to remove some rock on the road, and get the job in readiness to start work in the spring.

ACCIDENT AT TARGET PRACTICE

Frank Churchill of Ulster Landing received a charge of shot in the shoulder and arm on Tuesday when he passed behind a target at which a companion was shooting.

Churchill and several friends were having target practice the target having been placed inside the barn. Churchill happened to walk around the barn and passed behind the target just as one of his companions discharged the gun. The charge of shot passed through the target and side of the barn.

He was attended by Dr. John F. Larkin, who later brought him to the office of Dr. Harry P. Van Wageningen on John street, where an X-ray photograph disclosed the location of the shot, which was extracted.

BAKERS' PRICES HERE CRITICIZED

Kingston, N. Y., Dec. 17, 1920.

Editor Kingston Daily Freeman:

Dear Sir: Will you kindly permit me a little space in your valuable paper to call attention to a condition which exists in this city. I refer to the excessive prices demanded by the bakers of the city for their products. Although flour has declined $5.99 per barrel, sugar 15 cents per pound together with large declines in lard and other ingredients used largely by bakers, the buying public is compelled almost without exception to pay prices out of all proportion for all bakers' goods. The bakers did not fail to advance their prices when goods were costing them more, but have evidently forgotten to mark them down although they have been buying for less money for some considerable time. I think there is room for investigation by the authorities of the city along this line.

DIVORCE DECREE FOR DEFENDANT

Scavone Had Wife's Case Reopened and Showed That She Had Child By Another Man While He Was Absent With 51st Pioneer Infantry Band.

A final decree of divorce has been granted defendant in the action brought by Carolyn Scavone against Jasper J. Scavone, by Supreme Court Justice G. D. B. Haskin. It is ordered that plaintiff shall not marry again until the death of the defendant. At the trial of the case on September 4th, it developed that the parties had worked together at a hotel at New Paltz, that Joseph was a member of the band of the 51st Pioneer Infantry, and when he returned he learned his wife had gone away with a man named "Sam," by whom she had a child, then five months old. She had been granted an interlocutory decree by default and Scavone appeared in person at the trial and after being heard the case was opened and he was granted the interlocutory decree. Three months having elapsed, as the law directs Scavone has now been granted a final decree. William B. Brunner was the attorney for the plaintiff in the original action brought by her, and at the trial he stated to the court that he had not been informed of the true facts of the case by the plaintiff when the action was brought by her.

HEAVY CHRISTMAS TRADE.

At Winter's Store Proved Too Much For Floor.

E. Winter's Sons have certainly broken the record for a heavy Christmas trade this year. The floor in the front of the store where one enters, by the Christmas card tables, broke down yesterday and this morning it was found necessary to close that entrance while necessary repairs were being made. "Tubby," is not quite decided whether the break down was caused by the extra weight of this year's Christmas shoppers or their pocketbooks, or by the amount of Christmas gifts of every sort which have been carried out of the store for shipment.

Whatever the reason may be, Mr. Winter says he doesn't mind having new flooring put in if the heavy Christmas business keeps up.

LATEST N. Y. CRIME SOLVED

Four Men and a Wounded Woman Held for Robbery and Killing of Police Lieutenant—Officer Killed One of Gang.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 17.—Following a desperate battle with auto bandits in upper Broadway early today in which a police lieutenant and at least one of the armed thugs were killed, Mayor John F. Hylan took official cognizance of the sensational crime wave that has recently engulfed the metropolis. He called into conference the commissioner of police, Richard E. Enright.

Floyd Horton, police lieutenant, died bravely. After jumping on to the running board of a fleeing car containing the armed robbers, four men and one woman, Horton, unable to get the highwaymen to stop, emptied his revolver into the limousine, although one bullet had pierced his chest below the heart. Still conscious when taken to a hospital, Horton whispered to a detective:

"I'm sure I got two of them. Look in my pocket."

Then he swooned. In his pocket was the number of the death car, and the body of one of the robbers, a victim of Horton's revolver, was found in the hallway of an apartment house, a few blocks from the scene of battle. It was identified as that of Joseph Lorsch, 22, an Italian, said by police to have a criminal record. Michael Lorsch, newspaper delivery van driver, near whose apartment Joseph was found, was arrested today when he sought to take from a garage a blood-spattered car with the number copied by Horton.

The arrest of Nicholas Lorsch, another brother and of John Cavanaugh and Emma Brooks, quickly followed. The woman was wounded, police say, in the right arm near the elbow. Before Horton died he said he thought he "got the woman."

Although the apparent solution of the taxi bandits' escape came early, police still were without sufficient evidence to make arrests in the $50,000 jewel robbery and murder of Edwin W. Andrews.

The taxi bandits were accidentally surprised while trying to raid an apartment house, when Horton came upon them. But the daylight thugs, who, using a Maxim machine to kill and rob the prominent jeweler in his Fifth avenue office, apparently had been able to plan their holdup and vanish.

Another crime mystery confronted the police when the body of a well-dressed man, bearing five bullet wounds, was found by a police sergeant in front of a building on East 16th street. In his pockets were three letters, written in Italian, without envelopes, addresses, or signatures. A woman told the police she had shot fired near where the body was found but she could give no details.

WINTER WHEAT CONDITION NORMAL

Was 87.9 on December 1 against Ten Year Average of 88.4. With Slightly Lower Average—Rye Average OK. Condition Good.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The crop reporting board of the bureau of crop estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, makes the following estimates from reports of its correspondents and agents:

Winter Wheat—Area sown, this fall is 40,605,000 acres; which is 2.8 percent less than the revised estimated area sown in the fall of 1919 (viz. 41,757,000 acres). Condition on December 1 was 87.9, against 85.2 and 88.5 on December 1, 1919, and 1918, respectively, and a ten year average of 88.1.

Rye—Area sown this fall is 1,655,000 acres, which is 11.4 percent less than the revised estimated area sown in the fall of 1919 (viz. 1,852,000 acres). Condition of December 1 was 90.5 against 89.8 and 89.0 on December 1, 1919, and 1918, respectively, and a ten year average of 91.2.

PROGRESS ON CREEK BRIDGE

Work on the proposed suspension bridge across the Rondout creek is progressing, and Terry & Trench, the bridge contractors, are busy erecting the huge steel derricks that will be used to place the steel towers in position. There are three cars of steel for the bridge on the way, but they have not arrived yet. Part of the steel towers has also been shipped. On the way is the steel anchorage for the bridge.

Work on remodeling the big concrete pier on the Esopus side of the creek is under way. About four feet was removed from the top of the pier which had been built under another bridge plan, and two concrete pedestals will be built on top of the pier. Each pedestal will be seven feet in height, and the steel tower will rest on them. There are to be two steel towers erected, one on each side of the creek. Each tower will be 155 feet in height.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 17.—Initial quotations showed fractional improvement on the stock market today, but a heavy tone set in immediately after the opening causing reactions in the principal issues. Steel Common yielded 3/4 to 78 1/2. Baldwin Locomotive after advancing to $74, dropped to $67 1/2. Crucible showed the heaviest loss, falling 1 1/2 to 79 1/2. Republic Steel rose 1/4 to 59 1/2 and then dropped 1 point. The only wide fluctuations were in the oil issues, a peculiar situation being seen in the Mexican stocks. Pan-American Petroleum being far below its proportionate value compared with the exchange terms for Mexican Petroleum. Mexican Petroleum was ex-dividend 3 percent, opening at 162 1/2, a gain of 1 1/2, and then declined to 161. Pan-American Petroleum was ex-dividend 1 1/2 percent opening at 76 1/2, an advance of 1/2 from which it yielded to 76 1/2. Royal Dutch rose 2 points to 58 1/2. Railroad stocks were generally firm.

After the irregular movements of the opening, the market became one of quiet strength, despite the efforts of professionals to force recessions. There was an absence of liquidation. Steel Common advanced to above 79 and Baldwin Locomotive rose nearly 1 point from the low to $74 1/2. The oil stocks, after early weakness, turned strong.

Following a break in the sugar stocks in the early afternoon, the market turned firm and many issues made good returns. The decline in sugar shares, on which many members of this group slumped to the lowest figures of the year, was a reflection of general unsettlement. The stock market closed weak. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

CAPTAIN WRINN IS MISSING

Captain Andrew Wrinn of Ponckhockie street, employed by Dwyer Brothers, was reported missing this morning from his barge at Ulster Landing. The firm immediately notified Captain Wrinn's family, and one of the sons left this afternoon for Ulster Landing in an automobile to assist in the search for his father. Captain Wrinn's barge was loaded with brick for the Standard Oil Company at Albany, and the oil company's tug called at Ulster Landing this morning for the barge to find that Captain Wrinn was not on the boat. The foreman of the brickyard found the captain's hat lying in the brickyard near the barge, but no trace of the missing man was found.

HARDING HEARS BRYANPEACE PLAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Marion, O., Dec. 17.—Old time political opponents sat in close and helpful conference in Marion today. William Jennings Bryan, long the commanding figure in the Democratic party, came to give his advice to Senator Harding on the future world policy of the United States.

Mr. Bryan arrived here this morning from Columbus, and was the guest of the president-elect for the day. Peace and the most potent methods to insure it were the subjects of their consultation. Those subjects always have been close to the heart of the former Democratic standard bearer and secretary of state.

Senator Harding counted on him to outline in detail the provisions of the arbitration treaties entered into by the United States before the great war and give his opinion as to how they should be effectively amended to meet present conditions.

Mr. Bryan, it is known, has been a consistent advocate of an association of nations banded together for peace. It is understood he expressed freely his views as to the so-called referendum on war outlined by Colonel George Harvey. He is also believed to have talked over the plan by Senator Root for an international tribunal.

BOY SHOPLIFTERS ARE BUSY HERE

Through an investigation conducted by the police department and some of the local merchants the parents of twenty boys, who range from 10 to 16 years, have been notified to appear before Judge Schirrick with their boys at the city hall. No arrests have been made and just what will be done at the conference is not known.

Every year around the Christmas holidays the local stores suffer a loss by shoplifters amounting to several thousands of dollars. The work of boys this season had already caused a loss of around $300. The articles taken by the boys have been the smaller articles such as flashlights, candy, neckties, etc. The police first became aware of the work of the boys when they found several boys selling their boy chums articles that had been stolen for small sums such as ten cents and five cents.

This is the first season where so many boys were found shoplifting, and the rather remarkable fact is that the majority of the boys come from respectable homes. As there are no arrests made as yet the names of the boys summoned to appear at the city hall have not been made public.

Mufflers, neckwear, 20 to 30 per cent reduction. 231 Wall street. S. COHEN'S SONS SALE, Kingston, N. Y.—Advertisement.

The feeling in Washington over the alleged British atrocities in Ireland is so bitter, according to reports from the capital, that it has spread from congress into diplomatic and official society. Lady Goddes, wife of the British ambassador, has resigned as a patroness of the Washington opera to show her displeasure with Mrs. Peter Barry, who acted as hostess to Mrs. Terence Mac Swiner during the latter's stay in the capital. It is said. The Washington Opera Company is a public spirited enterprise supported by leading members of local and official society.
